What is user-centered design

Research

It begins with research to get to know the users, their objectives and contexts

Empathy

It is based on empathy to put themselves in the place of the users

Iteration

Uses an iterative process that allows for constant evaluation and improvement