

2023 Calendar Planner Spreadsheet

The screenshot displays a 2023 Calendar Planner Spreadsheet in Excel. The spreadsheet is organized into three overlapping calendar views for the months of March, February, and January 2023. The March view is the background, followed by February, and January is the foreground view. Each calendar view has a title bar with the month and year, and a grid of days. The January view shows dates 1 through 31, with a large purple block at the bottom. The spreadsheet interface includes the Excel ribbon, a status bar at the bottom, and a large purple arrow pointing to the right.
