Keeping families connected through storybooks

We are working with Arizona Department of Corrections Rehabilitation and Reentry Counseling and Treatment Services to provide two of the same picture book for each member of the program who has a child - one book to keep at the corrections facility and one to send to the child. This will allow the parent and child to read the same book together during phone visits, building a connection that both parties can be reminded of every time they look at or think of their book.

If you would like to donate to this cause, we are looking for any kind of picture books in new condition - we just ask that you provide matching pairs.

A tax-deductible monetary donation can also be designated to this purpose.
