

Home

Posts

Works

About

This portfolio template is powered by Cosmic.

About Me

I love working with jamstack and headless architecture. I am currently building with TypeScript, Cosmic, Next.js, Tailwind CSS, and Node.js.

Coming from a background in audio engineering and music production, I quickly found that writing code was a bit like putting the secret sauce on a vocal mix; there's not necessarily a single way to do it, and the person behind the keyboard has the power to put their style into a great solution.

My favorite part about coding is the constant innovation of architectures, libraries, and frameworks. I think web development is experiencing a major breakthrough with headless architecture and jamstack, and want to be involved in any way I can.