- you did not have a New York income tax liability for 2012; and

Who qualifies – To claim exemption from withholding for New York State personal income tax (and New York City and Yorkers personal income tax, if applicable), you must meet the conditions in either Group A or Group B:

Group A

- you must be under age 18, or over age 65, or a full-time student under age 25; and
- you did not have a New York income tax liability for 2012; and
- you do not expect to have a New York income tax liability for 2013 (for this purpose, you have a tax liability if your return shows tax before the allowance of any credit for income tax withheld).

Group B

- you meet the conditions set forth under the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA), as amended by the Military Spouses Residency Relief Act. See Military spouses.

If you meet the conditions in Group A or Group B, file this certificate, Form IT-2104-E, with your employer. Otherwise, your employer must withhold New York State income tax (and New York City and Yorkers personal income tax, if applicable) from your wages. Do not send this certificate to the Tax Department.

Generally, as a resident, you are required to file a New York State income tax return if you are required to file a federal income tax return, or if your federal adjusted gross income plus your New York additions is more than $4,000, regardless of your filing status. However, if you are single and can be claimed as a dependent on another person's federal return, you must file a New York State return if your federal adjusted gross income plus your New York additions is more than $2,000.

If you are a nonresident and have income from New York sources, you must file a New York return if the sum of your federal adjusted gross income and New York additions to income is more than your New York standard deduction.

A penalty of $200 may be imposed for furnishing false information that increases your withholding amount.

When to claim exemption from withholding – File this certificate with your employer if you meet the conditions listed in Group A or Group B above. You must file a new certificate each year if you wish to continue to claim the exemption.
