LEFT RIGHT GAME

Mrs. RIGHT is excited to host her first annual New Year's Eve party. Christmas has LEFT the building and it's almost time for a new year. There's just something that feels so RIGHT about flipping over a new calendar year. The memories are LEFT behind, but will remain RIGHT in our hearts forever. Mrs. RIGHT opened her front door to see Amazon boxes stacked RIGHT in front of her on the front porch. A box to the LEFT, a box to the RIGHT, boxes everywhere! Mrs. RIGHT was so excited as she knew these were the party decorations for the big party! There was nothing LEFT to do but open the boxes and get RIGHT to work. She hung the photo booth in the LEFT corner of the room and placed the party hats on a table in the RIGHT corner. Balloons were hung to the RIGHT corner and LEFT corner. There were balloons everywhere! RIGHT then RIGHT called Mrs. RIGHT and reminded her to get the party horns in the basement. "RIGHT, RIGHT, RIGHT", she said. Mrs. RIGHT ran RIGHT down the steps, made a RIGHT at the bottom and grabbed the party horns. She ran RIGHT back up the stairs and placed them on the table in the RIGHT corner RIGHT next to the party hats. She LEFT the room and entered the kitchen to get the appetizers ready to go. She placed them RIGHT in the oven and set it to just the RIGHT temperature. Mrs. RIGHT made a LEFT out of the kitchen and headed back the hall to get her new year's dress on. Mr. RIGHT's black tie was hanging to the RIGHT and looked sharp. "This is going to be the best party ever!", she said to herself. RIGHT then the doorbell rang. It was Mr. RIGHT. He LEFT work early to come home to help with the party. He felt like it was RIGHT to offer a hand of help to Mrs. RIGHT. There was one thing LEFT to do and that was wait for the guests to show up. Before long, their best friends Mr. and Mrs. LEFT arrived for the party. The only RIGHT way to bring in a new year was to do it with friends. The rest of the guests poured into the house and headed RIGHT for the party hats and horns. It was such a festive sight! Before they knew it, midnight was upon them. Mr. RIGHT made a toast before the year LEFT into the night. 3, 2, 1...Happy New Year! Everyone LEFT their seats and jumped RIGHT up to celebrate! This year was going to be the best year yet. Mr. and Mrs. RIGHT hugged each other and said, "We surely brought in the new year the RIGHT way."
