

A collection of Norwex cleaning products is displayed on a light-colored surface. The products include several cloths: a large brown textured cloth, a smaller brown cloth with a green border, a white cloth with a green border, and a blue and white patterned cloth. There are also several bottles of cleaning solution, including a large white bottle with a green label, a smaller white bottle with a pink label, and a dark blue bottle with a white label. A white brush with a grey handle is also visible.
