

100 Sentences of Past Continuous Tense

- When Michael was playing video games, Richard was studying.
- Sophia was laughing at Steve's jokes.
- The audience was boring because of Abel's presentation.
- Jonathan was not talking anymore because he had a broken heart.
- Isabel usually sings the song but she was not singing this morning.
- Frank was not worrying about his daughter's situation.
- Were you listening to me?
- Why was Gregory thinking about Emma's beauty? He didn't have any idea.
- Why were you talking about this problem to me?
- Was Sarah needing a friend to talk to?
- It was not eating a strawberry a few minutes ago.
- They were drinking coffee when I arrived.
- I was watching football match on TV when he called.
- You were watching television last night.

- The students were drawing beautiful pictures when the teacher entered the classroom.
- It was raining yesterday evening.
- I was learning German last year.
- The students were not eating their bananas.
- I was crying while he was laughing.
- He was working when I called him.
- I was washing the dishes when the phone rang.
- Last night at 10 p.m, I was eating dinner.
- As she was reading the book, Alice came.
- The earthquake was scaring all of us.
- I was not taking a shower.
- You were not doing that at that time.
- My sister was studying in the library.
- We were eating when our friends showed up.
- While Mary was sleeping I was making a cake.
- The police was chasing the man while you were talking.