B. TYPE STYLE AND POINT

Whenever Times is specified, Times Roman or Times New Roman may be used. If neither is available on your word processor, please use the font closest to appearance to Times. Avoid using too-small point sizes. True Type 1 or Open Type fonts are suggested. Please confirm all fonts, in particular symbol fonts, as well, on each side.

 Name of organization - acronym acceptable (line 2)

The template is used to format your paper and style the text. All margins, column widths, line spaces, and text fonts are prescribed; please do not alter them. You may, however, use boldface, italics, underline, and color to emphasize important points. For example, the head margin in this template contains page numbers automatically; this is necessary. The measurement and others are arbitrary; using specifications that anticipate your paper is one part of the entire proceedings, and not an independent document. Please do not arrive at any of the content decisions.

10. Planning Your Paper Before Writing

Before you begin to format your paper, first write and save the content as a separate text file. Keep your text and graphics files separate until after the proof has been formatted and styled. Use one text file, and limit one of hard images to only one instance in the text of a paragraph. Use one soft copy link or photograph anywhere in the paper. Do not number your headings, numbers, or figures in the text.

Finally, complete content and organizational editing before forwarding. Please take care of the following items when proofreading and final editing:

6. Addressed names and addresses (Wording 2)

Outline addresses and assign the first name they are used in the text, even after they have been defined in the abstract. Address names such as WHO and UN do not have to be defined. The first use either defines the role or branch unless they are unambiguously

- Use either M or CGS as primary units, CGS units (mechanics) English units may be used as secondary units as appropriate, the exception would be the use of English units as identifiers to make, such as "3.2 inch drive".
- A word combining SI and CGS units, such as current is amperes and magnetic field is coulombs, this unit tends to confound because equations do not balance dimensionally. If you must use mixed units, clearly state the units for each quantity that you use in the
