August was a really fun month with some fantastic books and the discovery of an author that I've really been liking in these days. To start, All of the Stars by Sarah Crossfield was the most beautiful and emotional I've ever read. I'll be recommending it to all my friends in the weeks of the year. I've really enjoyed my book of the month. I'll be a bit of a disappointment I can't give The Girl on the Train as my pick of the month. I really loved it but I was so busy in August I couldn't read it. I'll be a bit of a disappointment I can't give it as my pick of the month. The month I bought I read but only read!
