

WEDDING VOWS

Hello, friend.

We are here as co-creators. And it is my expectation as we move forward in this marriage [or in this relationship] that both of us will find ourselves satisfied in every way that is possible.

It is my desire to discover who I am and who you are. But most important to me is that I be happy so that I may inspire happiness in you.

I do not take your life as my responsibility. I take my life as my responsibility. And I am looking forward to a very good time here.

I am anticipating that as we move forward in this life together, we will have the ultimate of all positive experiences — because that is what I intend to look for. As long as we are having a good time, let us stay together. And if we should stop having a good time, let us separate — either in thought or in physicalness — until negative do us part.
