

THE SOCIALIST REPUBLICS OF NEKAI
This is the territory of Nekai in 2060

Capital: Yakkre, formerly known as Sydney. The capital was moved to Yakkre from Canberra due to the Nekaijn "military" base being located there.

Government Reform: 2058
• After a 25-year rule, the fascist government of the Australian Empire was successfully overthrow by the Nekaijn.
• At the time of the Nekaijn Victory, the nation comprised of Australia, New Zealand, Australia Indonesia (consisting of Papua New Guinea, Indonesia, Brunei, and East Malaysia), Australian Indochina (consisting of Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia, Thailand, West Malaysia, and Myanmar), the Philippines, some parts of what was once modern day China, as well as north and south Korea (known as China). Additionally, all five colonies were granted autonomy, but not independence.
• Australian Indonesia was divided into five autonomous islands: Sumatra, Java, Borneo, Sulawesi, and Papua. This was due to the fact that governing those five islands would be easier to manage.

The Socialist Republics of Nekai (Current Constitution): 2059
• China expanded west up to the border of Mongolia. Indochina also merged with China, forming the East Asian Socialist Republic, due to the fact the they are connect by land, cultural similarities, and that China has less than 1,000,000 (due to the fact that several cities in China were nuked 35 years prior during WWII.)
• Japan was admitted into the union as a Special Administrative Socialist Republic, meaning the nation is completely exempt from federal of government. Additionally, Japan is allowed their own structure of government (although the Government of Nekai is already based on the Japanese government.)

Current Territory: 2060
Government Officials from Haedam explored some of what was once modern day Siberia, which has been devastated, but there are some surviving "towns" rebuilding. After a while of getting these towns in the region to come together, the Siberian Socialist Republic of Nekai was established.
