

VERTICAL INTEGRATION CLASSIFICATION

Backward integration. when the company tries to own an input product company.

Forward integration. where the business tries to control the post production areas, namely the distribution network. Like a mobile company opening its own Mobile retail chain.

Balanced integration is a mix of the above two