

TRIUMVIRATE OF THE IMPERIUM

Fighting side by side against the manifold threats to the Imperium of Mankind, the Triumvirate of the Imperium bolsters the might of their allies even as they obliterate all those foes who bar their path. Waves of telepathic power radiate from Inquisitor Greyfax, paralysing any that draw too close as they are overwhelmed by her will. At the same time, binharic cant and augmentative data-shunts fill the noosphere around the Archmagos Cawl, their purpose to aid the war machines and weapons of the Imperium even as they curse those of the foe. At the head of the triumvirate fight Saint Celestine and her Geminae Superia, their ringing war hymns calling down the boundless fury of the Emperor upon the foul and faithless warriors of the enemy.
