The image shows the 'Table Styles' task pane in Microsoft Excel. It is organized into three main categories: 'Light', 'Medium', and 'Dark'. Each category displays a grid of 12 different table styles, each represented by a small icon showing a table with a specific color scheme and border style. The 'Light' section includes styles with light gray, blue, orange, and green backgrounds. The 'Medium' section includes styles with medium gray, blue, orange, and green backgrounds. The 'Dark' section includes styles with dark gray, blue, orange, and green backgrounds. At the bottom of the pane, there are two buttons: 'New Table Style...' and 'New PivotTable Style...'.
