To Whom It May Concern:

In regard to Megan Bennett, I am more than happy to write a recommendation for her for Graphic Design and/or Photography. I teach art at Madison High School, and advise the Yearbook staff. Megan was the editor of the yearbook for 2011-12. She was on the staff for 2 years. I am totally overwhelmed by the knowledge she has of the programs: InDesign, Photoshop, and Illustrator.

Megan was asked to be the editor at the end of her junior year. She was so excited for the opportunity and took the summer to plan. She also spent a week at yearbook camp. Megan brought back amazing layouts, a developed theme for the year, and a plan. She designed all the spreads for the yearbook, and I mean every section. She didn't use the Herff Jones layouts that were available. She stayed ahead of everyone else. She used her time wisely, divided work up for the staff, solved problems that arose, and just took over. She made my job easier.

She knows how to use the camera; she edited everything in Photoshop and Illustrator. She understood the programs and when a problem arose, she worked at it until she solved it. She put together an amazing book. In fact, I wish she was still here.

Megan would be an asset to any program at the college, or on the job. She loved working with the different programs and was always a step ahead of everyone else. She was a delight to work with and worked well with the students on the staff. I would highly recommend her. She will not let you down.

Sincerely,
