

Reading Is Fundamental
RIF.org

MARCH 2014

READING ACTIVITY CALENDAR

| Sunday   | Monday  | Tuesday  | Wednesday  | Thursday  | Friday   | Saturday  |
|--|---|--|--|---|--|---|
|  |   |  |  |   |  | 1National Pig DayRead "Charlotte's Web," by E.B. White, or another book.                              |
| 2Dr. Seuss's BirthdayRead any one of the many books written by this famous author.                                 | 3March is Women's History Month. Who are your favorite authors who are women? Make a list.           | 4Read for 20 minutes today.   | 5Ask your parents where they were born. Find out more about their home-towns.                         | 6March is National Craft month. Make a bookmark for a friend.  | 7Make a crossword puzzle using the names of famous women.                           | 8Visit the library and find a book about famous female artists. Who is your favorite?                            |
| 9Find a recipe for pancakes, and then prepare breakfast for your family.  | 10Read for 20 minutes today.   | 11It's Ezra Jack Keats's birthday. Read "Peter's Chair" in his honor.               | 12In honor of National Girl Scouts' Day, read about book about its founder, Juliette Gordon Low.      | 13Take a little extra time to write in your journal today.   | 14It's Pi Day. What is Pi? Read "Why Pi?" by Johnny Ball, or another book.          | 15Skip the cartoons this morning and read a comic book instead.  |
| 16Read a poem today.  | 17St. Patrick's DayWrite a limerick about spring today.                                   | 18Write a story about yourself in your journal. Draw a self-portrait to go with it. | 19Read for 20 minutes today.  | 20First Day of SpringRead "Snow Rabbit, Spring Rabbit" by Il Sung Na, or another book about spring. | 21Think of things you'd like to do over the weekend. Make a schedule of activities. | 22It's Randolph Caldecott's birthday. Read a book that has won the Caldecott Medal.                              |
| 23 Write a short summary of your favorite TV show. Read all of the headlines in the Sports section of the newspaper.30 | 24 Help your parent write a grocery list. How many books did you read this month? Add them.31 | 25March and planet Mars are named after the same Roman god. Look him up.            | 26It's Robert Frost's birthday. Reading "Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening" or another Frost poem. | 27Spread out a beach towel in your room, pretend it's summer, read a magazine and relax.                       | 28Find a recipe and ask an adult to help you make it for dinner.                    | 29 Did you know that women flew airplanes as early as 1908? Look up Ruth Elder, Anne Morrow Lindburgh or Sally Ride. |

© 2014 RIF