

You should have a running head and page number on every page of your paper. Only write “Running head” on the title page. The running head is an abbreviated version of your paper’s title (or the whole title) that should not be longer than 50 characters, counting letters, punctuation, and spaces between words. It should be in all caps.

APA Formatted Title Page Example

Emily Haines

80028934

NRSG 112 Section 03

UBC Okanagan

Dr. P. Cash

September 21, 2011

Roughly 1/3rd of the way down include, on separate lines, double spaced and centered, the title of your paper, your name, your student number, the course and section number, the institution where you are taking the course, the name of your professor, and the date that you submitted the paper.