

$$y = a(x - h)^2 + k$$

www.mathwarehouse.com

A diagram illustrating the vertex form of a parabola. A purple parabola opens upwards. A vertical red line passes through the vertex of the parabola, representing the axis of symmetry. A red dot marks the vertex. The equation $x = h$ is written in red next to the axis of symmetry.

$$x = h$$