

- Between 1941-1945, Philippine Literature was interrupted in its development when we were again conquered by another foreign country, Japan.
- Philippine literature in English came to a halt.
- Except for the Tribune and the Philippine Review, Pillars, Free Philippines, and Filipina, almost all newspapers in English were stopped by the Japanese.