

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to - assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights; that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object seems to render them unable to afford Protection; it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which renders them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a world which has refuted his Agent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Agents should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them. He has refused to pass the Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people; and by those people would abridge the right of Representation in the Legislatures, a right inseparable to them and formidable to Tyrants only. He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their Public Records, in the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures. He has obstructed Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people. He has refused for along time after such Obstruction, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have devolved to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within. He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass Laws for encouraging their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Land. He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Agents to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers. He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries. He has created a multitude of Vice Offices, and most vulture pieces of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance. He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the consent of our legislatures. He has affected to rule the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power. He has combined with those Sojourners as to a generalship foreign to our Constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Agents to their lists of pretended Legislation. For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us. For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Misdemeanor which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States. For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world. For inflicting Taxes on us without our Consent. For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury. For transporting us beyond sea to trial for pretended offences. For abolishing the free System of English Law in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it even an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies. For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our governments. For suspending our own Legislatures, and dissolving themselfs invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever. —
He has abdicated Government here, by declining us not of his Protection and waging War against us. He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our Towns, and destroyed the lives of our people. — He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy famous calculated in the most Barbarous age, and history recording the Hand of a wicked nation. He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captives on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of those friends and Brethren, or to fell themselves by their hands. He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontier, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all age, sex and condition. His very presence is an Oppression. He has Plundered our Posts in the most horrid terms. Our repeated Petitions have been answered by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by ingratitude which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their Legislature to extend an unwaranted Jurisdiction over us. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably intercept our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of magnanimity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

And, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our actions, do, in the Name, and by authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be, Free and Independent States; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

William Johnson
Lyman Hall
Geo. Walton

John Hooper
Joseph Hawes
John Pease

Edward Rutledge

Thos. Heyward Jr.
Richd. Henry Lee
Arthur Middleton

John Hancock
Sam'l Adams
John Adams
Abigail Adams
John Quincy Adams
John Jay
Gouverneur Morris
Robert Morris

George Wythe
Richard Henry Lee
Thos. Jefferson
Benj. Franklin
John Adams
Sam'l Adams
John Jay
Gouverneur Morris
Robert Morris

John Adams
Sam'l Adams
John Jay
Gouverneur Morris
Robert Morris

James Wilson
Mt'g. Mif
Cesar Rodney
John Rutledge
Thos. Nelson Jr.
John Adams
Sam'l Adams
John Jay
Gouverneur Morris
Robert Morris

Nich'd Stockton
Edw'nd Rutledge
Lod'g. Sargent
Thos. Jefferson
Jno'l Jay
John Adams
Sam'l Adams
John Jay
Gouverneur Morris
Robert Morris

Josiah Bartlett
W'li'ngton
Sam''l Adams
John Adams
Abigail Adams
Henry Jones
Steph'n Hopkins

William Ellery
Roger Sherman
John Hartington
Ruf'ld Kinnaird
Over Thaddeus Morton
Matthew Thornton